The Health of the City.

The mortality reports of the Health Officer for the past two months give us a gratifying exhibit, when compared with and Salt those of last Summer. It will be remembered that the death rate was, during several months of last year, exceedingly $85,000. high, reaching 72 deaths in June and 102 in July. During June of this Summer we had but 33 deaths, and 46 in July, making only 44 per cent of the two months' mortality of last year. We at the time attempted to show that this high death rate was due to the excessive heat and moisture of the atmosphere, in connection with the prevalence of measles and scarlet fever. The greatly diminished mortality of the present Summer demonstrate that our reasoning was correct Of the 174 deaths occurring in June and July of 1876, no less than 30 were caused by measles and scarlet fever, against six this year in the past two months, Aside from those, then, we have seventy-three deaths this Summer against 144 in the same months of last year. How does the temperature of these periods correspond? We have only the reports for July. Last year the average daily temperature of July was 77, 66°, and the average temperature of the first twenty days was 81°. The average temperature of the month just ended was 76°, a difference of one and two-third degrees which is considered quite large as a mean or daily average. One other characteristic of the present summer has bee the marked change in the temperature after night-fall. With very few exceptions, our nights have been delightfully cool, a compared with those of last summer. Thus the children, always the greates sufferers from hot weather, have had a chance of procuring rest and recuperation from the prostration of the day and while keenly alive to the great responsibilities I assume, I trust, if elected, to be able under Providence to discharge daithfully and impartially the duties of to be able under Providence to discharge faithfully and impartially the duties of the position. It is sufficient for me to say that the principles adopted by the Convention have my cordial indorsement. They are wise and patriotic, and if properly executed in the administration of the government will tend to restore confidence and prosperity to the country. We are now passing through a crisis in our commercial, if not our national existence. Capital and labor are seeking to adjust their respective rights. This will require most thoughtful consideration and deliberate action. In so far as it may depend in any degree ssertion of principles will not meet the mergency; they must be vitalized so as to estore confidence to our financial, commercial and industrial pursuits. THE WAR ON THE DANUBE,

A Graphic Description by a Correspondent.

Terrible Defeat of the Russians.

The Bashi Bazouks Among the Wounded.

Bulgarians Left to the Mercy of the Turks.

LONDON, August 3.—A correspondent from Paredin, near Pleona, gives a graphic account of Tuesday's battle, graphic account of Iresaday's actie, which conveys a vivid idea of the extent of the Russian disaster. The correspondent, who was with Prince Schackoskoy's command, says: "And now all hope of success anywhere was dead, nor did a chance offer to make the best of defeat. Prince Schackoskoy had not a man left to cover his retreat. The Turks struck without stint; they had the upper hand for once, and were determined to show that they knew how to make the most of it. They advanced in swarms through the dusk, on their original first position, and captured the Russian command before the batteries could be withdrawn. Turkish shells began once more to whistle over the ridge above Radishioa and fall into the village behind, now crammed with wounded. Streams of the wounded were wending their painful way over the ridge, the badly wounded mostly lay where they fell.

TO WHING THE STERNEST HEART.
We stayed there to learn, if it might be, what troops were coming out of the valley of the shadow of death below, were there indeed any at all to come. The Turks had our range before dark, and we could watch the flash of the flame over against us and then listen to the scream of the shell as it, tore by us. The sound of rife bullets was increasing and the escorts and retreating wounded were the escorts and retreating wounded were struck. Detachments at length began to come straggling up, but it will give an idea of the disorganization to say that when a company was told off to cover somewhat the wounded in Radishova, it had to be made up of men of several reg-iments. About 9 o'clock the staff quitted the ridge, leaving it littered with groun-ing men, and moving cently lets we uld tread on prostrate wounded, we lost our way as we had lost our money. We could find no rest for the soles of our feet, by reason of alarms of Bashi Bazouks reason of alarms of Bashi Bazouks swarming in along with the scattered and retiring Russians. At length at one in the morning, having been in the saddle since 6 on the previous morning, we turned into a stubble field and making bela of the received. beds of the reaped grain, correspondent and Cossacks alike rested under the stars But we were not even then allowed t rest before an alarm came that the Rash Bazouks were upon us and we had to rouse and tramp away. Only a proportion of what in the morning was a line army was now a handful of wearied Cossacks.

Gen. Krudener sent word in the morning that he had lost severely and could make no headway and had resolved to fall back on the line of the river Osma. There had been talk, his troops being fresh, of renewing the attack to day with his co-operation, but it is a plain statement of facts that we have no troops to attack with. The most this morning. The only employes now out are the shop men, about half of whom have already signified their readiness to go to work to-morrow morning.

I am the Goldsmith to whom allusion is made by Hon. J. W. Nesmith, U.L. Marshal Waters and J. M. Johnson. Their testimony before said committee as having furnished or used money to influence or procure the election of said Grover to the United States Senate, and I further state that I was at Salem, Oregon, during the session of the Legislature at which the election of U. S. Senator was pending, and the day said election took place, and I declare I have not furnished or used the money, either directly or indirectly, to influence any member of the Legislature, either for a caucus member or voting for U. S. Senator, and I further declare that in a conversation with said Grover prior to his election he with said Grover prior to his election he told me he had no money to spend for his election, and he did not wish any of his friends to use any for him, and that I have no other motive in making this declaration than that justice shall be done.

Detaulter and Forger Arrested. San Francisco, August 3.—Lewis H. Lawn, of the firm of Lawn, Carr & Co., of New Orleans, and Edward Fulton, a defaulting tax collector of New Orleans, left here to-day for the East. Lawn was arrested here some ten days ago for forging bills of lading of cotton to the amount of $140,000. The sufferers were the Citizens' Bank for $95,000 and Hellman & Co. for the balance. Lawn, on his flight went to Texas, thence to Chicago, Baltimore, England, Brazil and Chill, thence to this city. He had no money of consequence with him when arrested the Since his arrest here he has been allowed his liberty, being required to report at the jail every morning. When arrested he expressed a willingness to go back. The matter has been kept quiet by the authorities. left here to-day for the East. Lawn was

About Mr. Goldsmith.

Portland, August 3.—During the course of the investigation before the Congressional Committee of the charges of corruption preferred against Senator Grover, frequent allusions were made by witnesses, tending to implicate Goldsmith, the well known banker of this city. Goldsmith's shidavit, made by him in New York, July 12th, relative to the investigation then being held here, arrived here to-day and was filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The affidavit reads as follows:

"My name is Goldsmith, residence Portland. I am here at present with my son who is under medical treatment, and am therefore unable to go to Oregon to give verbal testimony in tie examination pending before the Congressonal Committee and in relation to the election of T.
